

81st Annual Holland Tulip Time Festival

May 5, 2010

There are more than six million tulips waiting for us in downtown Holland, home to the Tulip Time Festival—one of the largest flower festivals in the United States, and we will note a tantalizing touch of the Dutch at every turn. Now in its 81st year, Holland's Tulip Time Festival plays host to one million visitors every May. After traveling to scenic southwestern Michigan, we will arrive at the festival in time for a great luncheon in downtown Holland's Evergreen Commons, after which we will be treated to a spirited musical stage production performed by some of Holland's finest home-grown talents. The show will feature Broadway tunes along with a little country, a taste of gospel and a big red, white and blue finish. As if this weren't enough, there will be some surprises in store, too. What is a festival without a parade? We will view the annual Volksparade from reserved bleacher seating, and on the way home we will stop for a tour of the delightful Veldheer Tulip Garden. Let's see for ourselves why Reader's Digest has named the Holland Tulip Time Festival the "Best Small Town Festival in America."
